An Open Letter To Peter Baugher Who Is Julia Allison's Father

By Loren Feldman, on January 16th, 2011 in Tech

Peter Baugher is Julia Allison's Father. He is an Attorney in Chicago. He recently threatened people with legal action who have been critical of his daughter.

Dearest Peter,

Welcome to the internet. Congrats on the Huffington Post gig. I used to do videos for them, say hi to A.H. for me. Since you are now on the web in a very public way I'd thought I'd take some time and explain some of the more subtle nuances as to how this stuff works, especially in regards to your daughter Julia, and now you. Both you and your daughter seem to be mentally ill to the casual observer. While no father wants to hear that, I think it's best we have a frank and honest discussion about you and Julia. Let's just get it all out into the open. Pete, can I call you Pete? You have an absolute monster for a daughter. It's staggering really. I'm sure on some level you realize this as well which is why you have been threatening people who are critical of her. Seems you and your mid-western legal practice scared some people. Well I'm in NY and my lawyer pals would rip your country bumpkin tuchus apart. Pro bono. I say that to let you know that there is a certain segment of highly motivated people who are financially and intellectually your superior. They also care a lot more than I do about free speech in this country. You know the types Pete. East-coast, lefty intellectual Jews, loud-mouthed, aggressive Jews who will absolutely destroy you in any arena you wish to engage them in. They live for this kinda stuff. So before you get out your stationary and fancy pen realize that I am in no way intimidated by a small town goyisha attorney in the latter stages of his career.

Pete, Julia's deplorable behavior is a direct result of your poor parenting. Perhaps it was all the time you spent in the office, perhaps it was just easier to just let it unfold with her, but the fact of the matter is that your daughter is a mess. We both know that a beautiful girl like Julia should have had no problem landing a husband. Yet here we are all these years later and no hubby yet. She has a reputation for pleasing a man sexually, yet they all seem to leave. Perplexing huh? She is about to hit her expiration date of 30 and still no prospects. I suspect at 40 it will be the same. Yes, she is with John McCain's son and that's kinda cool, but we are both guys, and I think deep down you realize that's not really looking that promising. McCain's kid is 24 and your burro is 30. Additionally; he is a military pilot, known for being monogamous those guys are right? While in your daughters head she is having fantasies that he's Richard Gere and she's Debra Winger, the more probable truth is that he just likes banging one of his older sisters crazy friends. I know I used to like to, and everybody knows that most crazy girls are fun in bed. They have to be Pete, it's all they really can offer to anyone, or the world at large. That's why the crazy girls are always trying to act sexy. RE: the condom dress. It reeks of desperation and is one of the sadder aspects of this type of woman. They know they are crazy deep down, and try to make up for it in this manner. It's heart breaking to watch. I could only imagine how hard it is for a father to witness his daughter behaving like this. I feel so bad for you. Really I do.

Pete, I'm sure this is unpleasant, and before we continue I'd like to explain my motivation to reaching out to you. I'm a comedian on the web who specializes in social satire. Free speech matters a great deal to me. I've also had some run ins with critics as well so I know how difficult this can be. The point is you can't fuck with me. At all. Ok? Now go pour yourself that Dewar's on the rocks and relax before you start thinking stupid thoughts you won't be able to pull off. I'll wait.

Your daughter represents almost everything bad about society, culture, and women. The thing that really proves this is the fact that your little girl just can't seem to find a guy who wants to stick around despite her being so OMG pretty. I bring up her lack of any suitors again since this seems to be the most important thing to Julia in validating her existence. Julia is considered an expert at oral sex according to many, many, many, many, many, many, apparently she knows about that really sensitive part in the middle that so many other women are oblivious to. Kudos to her for that. You would think that giving good oral would be enough to overcome her tree stump legs and her sausage like fingers. Which relative did she get those from? That's who you should really be mad at by the way. Anyway, If she didn't have such disgusting fingers maybe she could have learned to give great h's instead which would have saved you a ton in lipstick charges at Sephora. It doesn't matter. What does matter is that you have been acting like a real jerk.

Pete my boy, the internet is a place where all types of people speak their mind about a wide range of subjects. One of those subjects is your daughter. She brought this upon herself and you are not going to be able to stop it. Ever. Do you realize that? By threatening a bunch of lightweights all you did was attract the attention of the heavyweights who are now watching. These aren't people who blog Pete. These aren't the commenter's Pete. These are the people who will make sure that your little girl is passed over for all the good stuff. These are the people who can call a CEO and call your daughter all sorts of things much worse than a Donkey. You're not the only one with friends Pete. Her "career" as a shill could end quickly.

Pete, times are tough out there. Everyone is just trying to get through their day in one piece. Some people can't even find a job. Good, decent people, and they can't find a job, which is what makes your actions so despicable. How you have the balls to try and contact someone's employer to try and make them lose their job is beyond me. Even by Baugher standards. I've had it happen to me Pete, and it sucks. I've lost more money than your precious snowflake will ever make, and this kinda thing just really rubs me the wrong way.

RBNS was a goof. The only thing that made it real was your daughter and her actions. They weren't making that stuff up Pete. Your daughter really did all that stuff. While I'm sure you are not proud of her actions, attempting to curb free speech is not the lesson you should be giving Julia. Every parent wants to protect their child, and you are no different. What does make you different is that most parents would sit their adult daughter down and try to find out what the problem is that would cause her to act in such a vile way. Instead you have chosen to continue to enable her. RBNS was a place to blow off steam for a diverse group of people. Are some of them nuts? I suspect they are, but the truth of the matter is they could have just as easily have been talking about a grapefruit. Your daughter just happened to be that piece of fruit.

Here's the bottom line Pete. Your daughter wanted attention and she got it. I could care less about you, your daughter, or some poorly coded snark site. I do care about free speech, and I do care about someone who tries to prevent someone else from earning a living for merely commenting on a site you don't like. You are not going to be able to stop it. What you can stop though is enabling your daughter. I know that you must feel terribly guilty for many things related to how Julia has turned out. Do not beat yourself up over it. Just don't. It's not too late. In an effort to help may I offer some some helpful tips?

1. Do not try and contact people's employers. This the lowest, and by far the stupidest thing you've done. Truly despicable, and I fear the consequences could be much worse for Julia if you actually succeed in having someone lose their job in such tough times. People snap over financial pressures sometimes.
2. Ignore everything. No one is forcing you or your daughter or anybody else to read anything.
3. Sit your daughter down and have a talk. This is going to be tough. Issues might come up that are uncomfortable for both of you. Perhaps a Psychiatrist would be helpful in this instance. I don't mean a pharmacologist either Pete, although the shrink might recommend one, don't start there.
4. Do not leave the empty glass that you had your Dewar's in sitting in the sink. I can't imagine Momser's likes that sort of thing. Either hand wash it, or put it in the dishwasher.

That's pretty much it. This internet stuff is all a bunch of nonsense Pete. No one really cares or pays much attention to things in the grand scheme of things, unless you keep bringing attention to it which Julia, and now you seem to have a knack for.

Best Regards,
Loren Feldman

P.S. Fuck You.

P.P.S. Donkey.
